Subject: A Few Minutes off for Prayer

Dear Principal:

Muslims are supposed to follow the tradition according to their Holy Book, the Qur'an, and Sunnah, the practice of the Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him). Accordingly, Muslims are obligated to perform prayer 5 times a day during certain fixed times. Please allow your Muslim students the appropriate time to perform these prayers when they coincide with their school and an appropriate place. The 5 prayers are as follows: 1. Fajr (morning prayer), which is performed about an hour before sunrise; 2. Dhuhr (noon prayer), which is performed anytime from noon till the afternoon; 3. Asr (afternoon prayer), which is performed anytime in the late afternoon; 4. Maghrib (evening prayer), which is performed around sunrise; and 5 Isha (Night Prayer), which is performed during the night time. 5 to 10 minutes is all that is usually needed to perform these daily prayers. The Noon prayer is most likely to coincide with school, especially during the wintertime.

The Muslim faith, which has almost 10 million adherents in the U.S. alone and about 20,000 in Nashville, has requirements such as five daily prayers, fasting, pilgrimage and other religious practices. Such religious expressions are protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution, which expresses the free exercise of religion. Upon request and for additional information, a summarized guide entitled "An Educator's Guide to Islamic Religious Practices" is available.

Please allow for these accommodations. If you have any questions, please contact any of the Mosques or myself (480-6146).

On behalf of the Muslim community in Nashville, Salahadeen Center of Nashville, Al-Farooq Islamic Center, Masjid Al-Islam and Islamic Center of Nashville, thank you for your time and consideration.

Yours sincerely,

Rashed Fakhruddin,
Islamic Center of Nashville, Director of Education
